

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL (Re-Advertisement)

Request for Proposals from NGOs for Knowledge Management Grants under the Seventh Operational
Phase of the GEF Small Grants
Programme in India

TERMS OF REFERENCE (ToR) FOR KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT GRANT

Background

The Seventh Operational Phase of the GEF Small Grants Programme in India (<https://sgp-india.org/>) aims to enable communities and organizations in some of the most vulnerable and least developed areas of India to undertake collective action through a participatory landscape planning and management approach aimed at enhancing socio-ecological resilience through innovative livelihood options producing local and global environmental benefits. SGP is a global project that provides financial support to CBOs, NGOs, and CSOs working specifically in the areas of climate change mitigation, land degradation, and biodiversity conservation.

TERI has been appointed as the National Host Institution for the implementation of the Seventh Operational Phase of the Small Grants Programme in India by the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) for implementation of the Programme.

One of the key focus under SGP OP 7 is documentation of knowledge from evaluation of the innovative experience at the grass roots. Governments, inter-governmental entities, and development groups are progressively transforming from traditional problem-solving methods to novel, innovative, and multifaceted strategies and tools. An example of such a strategy is the Social Innovation Platform (SIP), designed to address intricate development issues on a subnational scale. SIP employs a blend of inventive techniques and methodologies centered on participatory and inclusive portfolio creation. These encompass Systems Mapping, Deep Listening, Sensemaking, Co-production, and portfolio logic, all working together to design interventions alongside communities and stakeholders collaboratively. The SIP approach is intended to create systemic changes in social and economic domains at the sub-national/local level and to support portfolios of integrated development solutions rather than traditional linear projects. It was developed by Agirre Lehendakaria Center (ALC) and has been tested and iterated by UNDP in Asia and the Pacific region. Two integral components of SIP are the 'Deep Listening' and 'Sensemaking', which focus on capturing and interpreting community perceptions, behaviors and insights, to co-create a portfolio of interventions that are human-centric and catalyze systemic shifts. Essentially, 'Deep Listening' is a set of qualitative tools (ethnographic research, surveys, focus groups, in-depth interviews, observations, etc.) that, together with quantitative data, can reveal the in-depth needs, challenges, and opportunities facing local communities.

Earlier experimentations of Deep Listening have shown the following key benefits:

- The strengthening of inter- and intra-community trust.
- Build adaptive capabilities in contexts of rapid change, crises, and emergent opportunities based on community needs and aspirations.
- Create a safe space for experimentation, imagination, and better collective action.
- Adding value to other UNDP strategic processes or projects in ways that become adaptive in a continually changing context and scalable to different levels of interventions and contexts.

With this background, GEF-SGP India, OP 7 seeks the services of a national level non-governmental organization (NGO) to adopt the SIP approach and build a knowledge management strategy to facilitate collecting, extracting, and analysing community narratives under the project domain and to foster knowledge management of community narratives. Additionally, the organization will formulate a communication strategy to enhance networking and knowledge sharing among SGP grantees alongside other Civil Society Organizations (CSOs), stakeholders, and the general public. This strategy should be created such that it fosters replication and scaling up of projects and exemplary methods while concurrently reinforcing the ability of civil society to influence policy development processes by engaging in events that captivate the interests of influential figures and institutions.

Objective of the Assignment

Knowledge Management is a crucial activity designed to support networking and knowledge exchange among SGP grantees as well as other CSOs, stakeholders, and the public to promote replication and scaling up of projects and best practices while also strengthening the capacity of civil society to influence policy development processes through participation in events that draw in influential individuals and institutions. The selected organization will be tasked with developing knowledge management and communications strategies. It will also be responsible for ensuring that the priority actions of these strategies are being implemented and lessons and experiences are being shared across the target regions and among other countries, particularly the Upgraded Country Programme countries, where similar integrated landscape approaches are being applied.

The organization should also ensure that the knowledge management strategy links with the Government of India Mission - Unnat Bharat Abhiyaan, which is inspired by the vision of transformational change in rural development processes by leveraging knowledge institutions to help build the architecture of an inclusive India.

This section provides the rationale as well as the proposed approach to undertake the activities envisaged under this assignment.

1.1 Project Summary

The Project Summary should describe the organizational experience and key approach and methodology to take up the assignment.

1.2 Organizational Background and Capacity to implement the project

This section should demonstrate that the proposing organization has the experience, capacity, and commitment to successfully take up the assignment. The issues to be covered in this section include:

- 1.2.1 Nature of the proposing organization – is it an informal group of interested parties, a community-based organization (CBO), national or sub-national NGO, research or training institution.
- 1.2.2 Purpose and core activities of the proposing organization/group
- 1.2.3 Organizational approach for undertaking the activities listed above, i.e., how does the organization or group intend to deliver the outputs?
- 1.2.4 Length of existence and project management experience.
- 1.2.5 Organizational structure, governance, and administrative framework: provide the number of paid staff members if it is a well constituted organization.
- 1.2.6 If relevant, state membership and affiliation to associations or umbrella groupings
- 1.2.7 Provide an indication of the legal status. If none, provide an elaboration of its nature of existence.
- 1.2.8 If the organization has undertaken any similar assignment, please describe how that experience is going to help/support in undertaking the Communication and Knowledge Management work of SGP OP 7.

1.3 Process and results framework

This section can be laid out in a matrix form and should contain a clear and specific statement of what the proposed activities will accomplish. Preferably this should follow a logical framework. Among the issues to address include:

- 1.3.1 The full description of the methodologies to be adopted to undertake the assignment. The approach should indicate the importance of GEF Small Grants Programme in terms of contributing to its overall and or specific focal area objective(s). It should also reflect the relationship of the project to other relevant programmes such as local, district or national government programmes, other GEF and UNDP projects, multilateral and bilateral aid agency projects, and other community based, CSO, and/or private sector activities. This will ensure that the knowledge management activity is not a standalone activity rather a participatory approach. The section should also highlight what will be the approach to disseminate knowledge to different stakeholders.

1.4 Description of Project Activities

This section, to be included in a logical framework, should describe what will actually be done to produce the expected results and accomplish the project's objectives. There should be a clear and direct linkage between the activities and the expected results or outcomes. (The proponent must ensure that the activities are a means to achieving the results). Note that weakness in this area may be a major reason for failure to receive funding. Activity descriptions should be as specific as possible, identifying what will be done, who will do it, when it will be done (beginning, duration, completion), and where it will be done. In describing the activities, an indication should be made regarding the organizations and individuals involved in or benefiting from the activity.

1.5 Implementation Plan and Time Frame

This section may be presented in graphical (table) form and can be attached as an annexure. It should indicate the sequence of all major activities and deliverable milestones, including targeted beginning and ending dates for each step. Provide as much detail as possible at this stage. The Implementation Plan should show a logical flow of steps, indicating that all the things that must happen have been carefully thought through from the current to the end of the project situation. Please include in the Implementation Plan the required reports, project reviews and evaluation activities.

1.6 Plan to Ensure Grantees Participation

Please describe how the stakeholders will be involved in collecting knowledge generated from different projects on the ground. This information will serve a basis for assessing and understanding Grantees participation and ownership.

1.7 Communication Strategy (with activity timeline, preferably in a Gantt chart)

Please describe how you would communicate the project results or knowledge products with government institutions, academia, policy makers and other key stakeholders.

1.8 Knowledge Management Strategy (with activity timeline, preferably in a Gantt chart)

Please describe how you plan to capture, share and disseminate the knowledge, lessons learned, and good practices gained through the implementation of the various projects under SGP-OP7.

1.9 Gender Mainstreaming

Please describe how the documentation/outreach work takes into consideration the importance of gender mainstreaming (with a focus on the needs of women), and how this would be reflected in the results and benefits of the project.

SECTION 2: FINANCIAL DETAILS

The Project Budget is an important part of every GEF SGP project proposal and must be completed prior to consideration of a proposed project for funding. Once a project has been approved for funding, the budget information becomes part of the binding Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) between the GEF SGP and the proposing organization.

The development and management of a realistic budget is an important part of developing and implementing a successful GEF project. Careful attention to issues of financial management and integrity will enhance the effectiveness and impact of the project. In keeping with the role of the GEF SGP as a support mechanism for community-level initiatives, every effort has been made to keep financial management requirements as straightforward and non-burdensome as possible. The following important principles should be kept in mind in preparing a project budget:

- Include only costs which directly relate to efficiently carrying out the activities and producing the objectives which are set forth in the proposal.
- The budget should be realistic. Find out what planned activities will actually cost, and do not assume that you will be able to make do for less.
- The budget should include all costs associated with managing and administering the project. In particular, include the cost of monitoring and evaluation.
- GEF SGP funds should be spent according to the agreed budget.
- All relevant financial records should be made available. These may be independently audited and may become public information.
- The budget line items are general categories intended to assist in thinking through where money will be spent. If a planned expenditure does not appear to fit in any of the standard line-item categories, list the item under other costs, and state what the money is to be used for.
- GEF SGP grant requests should not exceed US$ 75,000 per project (for all three landscapes).
